to arrange for the aradhane ceremony on a small scale as per inamul and send a bill to this office for payment

The Dy. Commr reports that this year the ceremony was started on the 16th July 1905 and continued to the next day. On both the days abishekam & other ceremonies were performed and about 250 brahmins were fed the first day & 200 on the second day. Usually the ceremony was to continue for three days but this year as the telegram from this office reached the Dy. Commr ~~late~~ in the afternoon of the 15th idem the ceremony was started the following day. Rs 100 was advanced from the Permanent advance of the Dy: Commrs office for the purpose and the amount has since been drawn from the Inam funds in deposit in the Bangalore Dt and remitted to the Dy: Commr for reconpment.

The cost was estimated at Rs 173 but the ~~Dy Comr~~ Asst Commr Sri Krishna Rao to whom the duty was entrusted. I curtailed the expenses and managed to finish it for Rs 100/- He reports however, that this amount cannot be taken as a precedent and data for future years, that if the ceremony is to continue for three days as usual it will cost ~~about Rs 4~~ more, & that as the old managers were absent it was not possible to ascertain the actual average cost per annum.
